EXCEPTS FROM THE GUIDELINES

References

References should be formatted in accordance with the Vancouver style. Please refer to the latest edition of the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) for an example of a properly formatted reference.

Examples of such databases in - include, but are not limited to:

• Zoobank (www.zoobank.org),
• Morphbank (www.morphbank.net),
• Genbank (www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/Genbank/),
• BarCode (www.barcodinglife.org)

Providing accession numbers allows linking to and from established databases and integrates your article with a broader collection of scientific information. Please list all accession numbers directly after the References.

International Code for Zoological Nomenclature. Zoobank will publish papers only strictly following the rules of the 4th edition of the International Code of Zoological Nomenclature. Each first mentioning of an animal species name within the text must be provided with author(s) name(s). Year of publication of animal species is recommended to be given in taxonomic revisions with providing full referencing of original description in the list of references.

OPEN ACCESS FEES. Access fees for open access journals ensure a barrier-free distribution of your paper at no charge for the readers and include costs involved in processing, linking to and from established databases and integrating your article with a broader collection of scientific information. Access fees in open access journals are usually covered by institutional funds or grants. Discounts waivers can be negotiated with the Managing Editor.

Open Access Publication Fees are usually covered by institutional funds or grants. Discounts/waivers can be requested by private and retired zoologists, scientists from low- and middle-income countries, post-graduate students, etc in case of exceptionally good manuscripts.

Discounts will be offered also to scientists who actively participate in the reviewing and editing process.

PRINTED VERSION. Offprints and printed issues of the journal can be purchased through the journal’s website. For standing orders/subscriptions please contact the Managing Editor.
